Federal Tax Law Topics/Federal Tax Related Matters

Product Description

The course examines the IRS and other federal security plan requirements and provides complete written guides for protecting client and company confidentiality in accordance with Circular 230 and various Internal Revenue Code Sections. In this manual the requirements for a WISP are discussed and then an example WISPS, with 8 appendices for a small firm are prov

Beginning with an eye-opening presentation of the security risks present in computer operating systems, browsers and search engines, they will illustrate the risks and then present solutions. The discussion is team taught by a 45+ year practicing CPA as well as Taxspeaker's own security expert and IT Director Ryan Jennings. Wait, they're not done with security though as they will then discuss the risks and use of artificial intelligence in a tax office and then enter the security world of the IRS, discussing WISP's, and providing a WISP plan template as well as remote work policies, computer & internet use policies and other useful policies. The final portion of security then addresses physical risks of theft, disaster and day-to-day operations.

Speakers

Bob Jennings CPA, EA

Bob is a nationally renowned author and speaker, presenting continuing education classes to over 100,000 tax professionals over the last 20 years all over the world. Bob is a licensed CPA (Indiana), and an IRS Enrolled Agent. Bob is also a prolific author and has published over 60 professional articles in such magazines as the Journal of Accountancy as well as many other professional and consumer publications; annually authors several tax, accounting and technology manuals; and is a regular columnist for FoxBusiness.com. As the founder of his own regional CPA firm in 1984, Bob has dealt exclusively with individual and small business financial issues for over 30 years. Bob regularly appears in the media and has been quoted extensively by numerous publications. He has recorded an extensive number of information videos, DVD's and instructional clips available on his website at TaxSpeaker.com.

Ryan Jennings

Ryan brings a wealth of technology experience to seminars. After setting up the network in his Dad's busy CPA firm at age 12, Ryan attended Ball State University and operated a CD replication and computer security consulting business. In 2009 he became Jennings Seminars full-time IT director and video production specialist. Responsible for all IT, technological research, video production, and on-demand video design & development, Ryan continues to stay at the cutting edge of technology for small business. He is a member of the Indiana IT Director Association and a regular participant at the world's largest IT forum-the Consumer Electronics Show. Ryan has Annual Filing Season Program completion through passing the now discontinued Registered Tax Return Preparer test and annual continuing education.
